Barbara loved going out to the pub and drinking with friends

One time, Barbara had too much to drink. She got really loud and annoyed other people.

She was sick all over the bouncers shoes

That wasn't a good night out for Barbara's friends, or Barbara

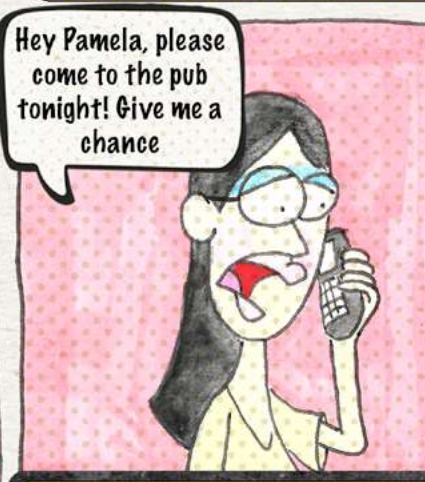

Barbara used to love going to the pub with her mates and was sad they didn't want to any more.

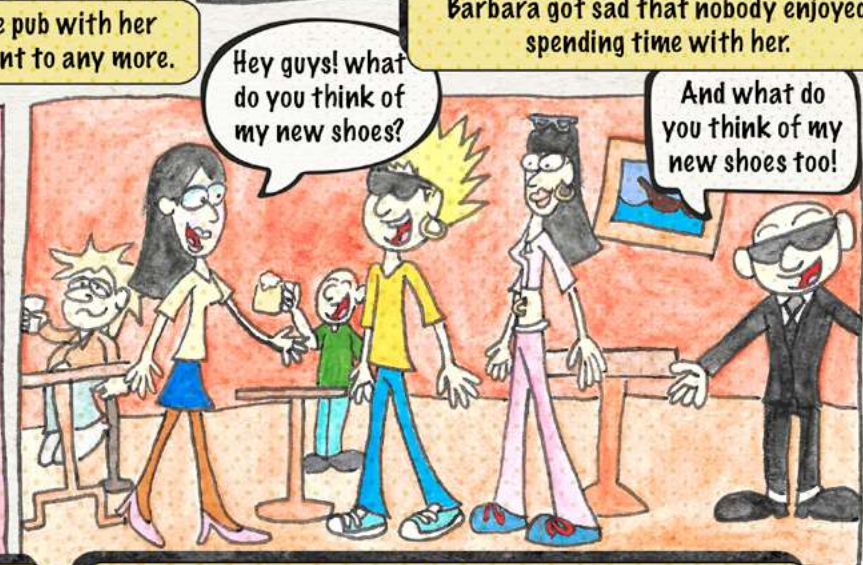

Barbara got sad that nobody enjoyed spending time with her.

Barbara decided to do something about feeling lonely

Barbara had a plan, she was not going to drink so quickly or drink so much.

Barbara learned her lesson. Now it's more fun when she goes out and she has money to spend on other things.
